Situated on the beautiful North Antrim Causeway coast, Royal Portrush Golf Club occupies a triangle of giant sandhills which present magnificent views in all directions. The hills of Donegal in the west, the Isle of Islay and Southern Hebrides in the north, with the Giant's Causeway and the Skerries in the east. The course is overlooked by the ruins of 13th century Dunluce Castle and this gives its name to Royal Portrush's famous Dunluce course.

Ballyliffin – Irish Open 2018

Lough Erne – hosted G8 in 2013

The screenshot shows the Lough Erne Resort website. The header is dark green with the resort's logo and five stars. Navigation links include RESORT, SPA, GOLF (highlighted with a yellow triangle), WEDDINGS, HOUSE SALES, and CHRISTMAS. A secondary navigation bar includes BOOK TEE TIME, STAY & PLAY, FACILITIES (highlighted with a yellow triangle), EVENTS, GROUPS, MEMBERSHIP, and GALLERY. Below this is a search bar with fields for Arrival Date, Departure Date, Adults (set to 2), and Children (set to 0), followed by a SEARCH button. The main content area is titled 'THE FALDO COURSE' in large yellow letters. To the right of the title is a 'Scroll Down' button with a downward arrow. The text describes the course as one of Ireland's top golf resorts, designed by Sir Nick Faldo, and mentions its status as a top 100 course in the UK & Ireland. A quote from Sir Nick Faldo is included. A sidebar on the right lists links: > The Faldo, > Castle Hume, > The Academy, > The Loughside Bar & Grill, > Castle Hume Clubhouse, and > The Golf Shop. The footer mentions the annual Faldo Series.

THE FALDO COURSE

Scroll Down ▼

As one of Ireland's top golf resorts, The Faldo Course, designed by six time Major winner Sir Nick Faldo, provides superb all year round playing conditions. The links-like fairways, perfectly true greens and spectacular Fermanagh Lakelands setting provides a stunning backdrop to the course. There are spectacular views from every vantage point and the waters of the Lough come into play on 11 of the 18 holes.

A top 100 course in the UK & Ireland, it measures 7,167 yards from the tips and is a Par 72. The course record of 68 was set by Rory McIlroy (touring professional 2009-2011) and still remains unbeaten.

The Faldo Course is a round where you will remember every hole and every shot. Each hole has been individually named in line with its individual traits and a tribute to the local area and each is beautifully framed in the natural landscape. In the words of Sir Nick himself....

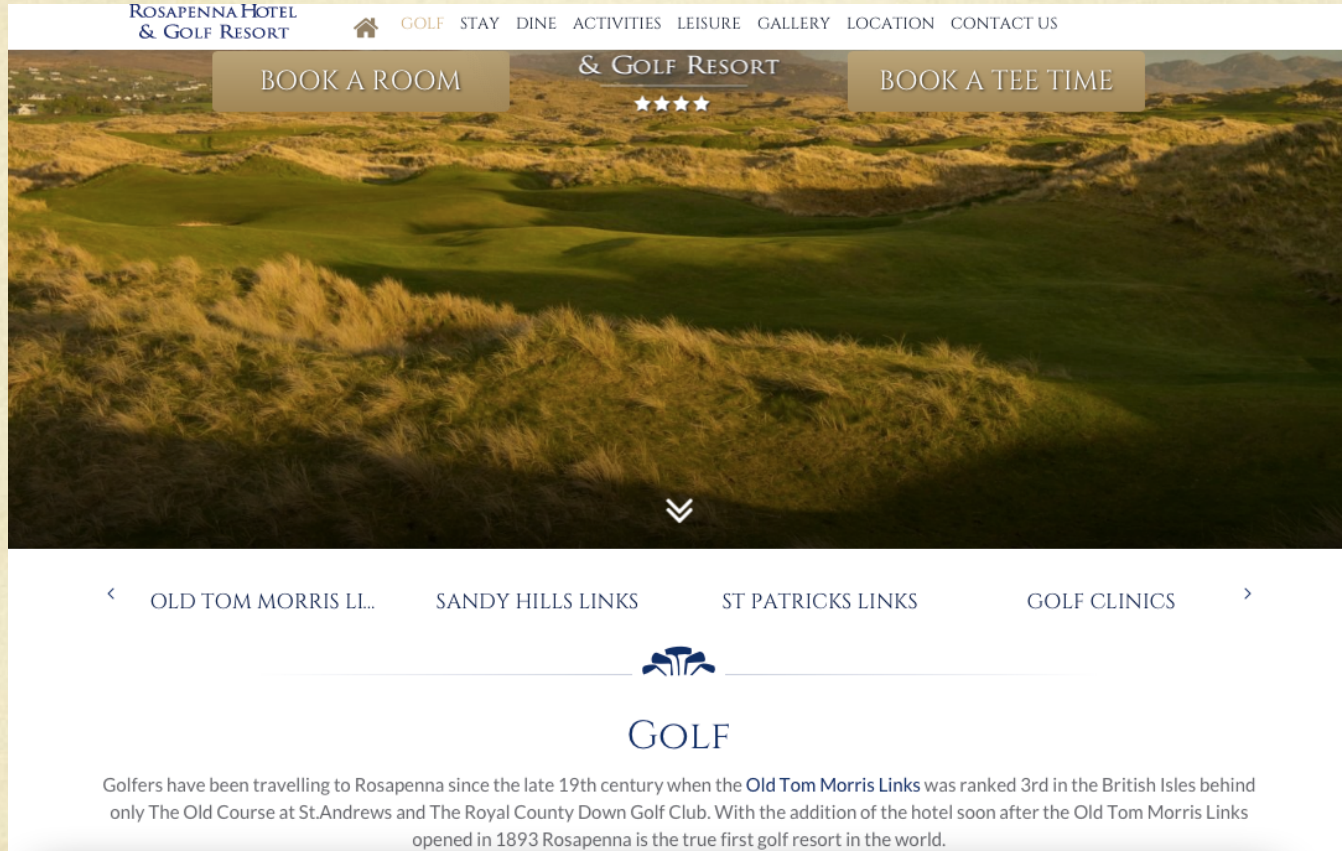

"I've played golf on every continent in the world and I can honestly say I am overwhelmed by the location and beauty of Lough Erne Resort"
Sir Nick Faldo

The Faldo Course is a must-play venue for society outings, tournaments, corporate and fundraising events and for those who just want to experience 18 of the very best golf holes in Ireland.

Our pristine greens have hosted top professional and amateur golfers alike including the annual Faldo Series
